There is no doubt that dogs are better than cats. It is my belief that dogs are better than cats because they help to keep their owners fit and healthy, they can eat leftovers and they are lots of fun.

Firstly, dogs keep their owners healthy because they need exercise. Owners need to take their dogs for walks. Taking your dog for walks is lots of fun because you can look at lots of different things and there are so many place that you can walk. While walking with a dog some people like to throw a tennis ball and have the dog bring it back. In short walking your dog can be lots of fun.

What do you do with your leftovers from breakfast, lunch or dinner? Maybe you chuck it in the bin, but if you have a dog you can feed them the leftovers. Unlike a cat, a dog will eat almost anything. Feeding your dog leftovers can also save money. It will save money because you may not have to buy as much dog food if you feed your dog leftovers.

Everybody likes, no let me change that to everybody LOVES to have fun. You can't have fun with a cat because they are very, very lazy. However you can have fun with a dog. You can play fetch or you can take them just about anywhere.

Furthermore, as you can clearly see, dogs are better than cats. Dogs keep their owners fit and healthy, they love to eat leftovers and they are fun to have around.

Dogs are a man’s best friend for life.
